How it works

To request a site visit you will need to have an account, which is free and simple to open. Once your account is confirmed, you can submit requests for site visits to us at sales@d4drivers.uk. We simply need to know the following:

1. What type of medical is required
2. How many medicals are required
3. The location of the site
4. Your preferred date & time

We will then locate a doctor and confirm your site visit with you. To make things easy, we will send you all the information you need to help prepare your candidates and the examination room on the day, and our doctor will bring with them all of the equipment required to complete the assessments. If you require additional documentation to be completed including consent or fitness forms we can usually provide this at no additional cost.
